Seriously this is embarrassing. I believe that sanitation workers should be paid same as doctor, engineer, professor, army etc. As what they serve is unique and specialized field just like others. Only then we can get rid of the class and caste discrimination. I have shared this belief before also and received criticisms. Still I stand by it. Given a chance to work on labor laws, I ll bring this change.

On the one hand, We have labour shortage in every field. On the other hand, the unemployment is rising. There is somewhere mismatch between what needs to be done and what is trained. Now we are creating a generation that doesn't want to work, doesn't know to work. Art, App & Sports are the new way of Life. No one interested to make hands dirty. Then of course Mechanization is the way... This is cyclic, more machines, more useless people... Eventually after the AI, man will have serious identity crisis..

Diamonds were always useless as a crystal... They got a value because again society(men) was fooled easily towards consumerism. Reminds me of the moment when I was gifted a 36 diamond stud ring on my 36th birthday and I was so upset about the waste of money. I would have rather preferred a holiday with him over a ring. It was kind of a price tag put on me which later didn't work. It turned out to unlucky, unhealthy, and unhappy for me. Give Time Not Diamond to your loved one. Do not compensate absentee with a bloody diamond. Greatest and Worst gift that America continues to give to the world is consumerism...diamond is just an example.

This happened last year and the year before too.. And m sure those idiot men are laughing behind me that they won over my voice for the trees...I know the trees need to be trimmed. But butchering them heartlessly is so inhuman. And the worst part is they will take the broken branches and leaves and burn them alive. And by the way this is under the instructions of so called educated rich men (no less than idiots) managing the society. <https://instagram.com/p/BUslpzYlcqc/>

1 June 2017

If MZ and all rich-middle class can reduce their take home incomes and not focus just to let that grow manifolds in the shortest time and way.....UBI can then be initiated...else it is again rich and educated people talking about removing poverty making sure that they don't reduce their wealth even by a fraction....

I know I sound naive, but we will not reach anywhere if we keep working on the poor for poverty and not work on the 'high earning and wasting money' rich and middle class..

Society- people at large

We also need to work on the Spending besides Earning. The basics for quality of life needs to be redefined...what the west calls a quality of life is to large extent sheer extravaganza...the ecological stress put by the rich and middle class is way too high than the poor...If the rich-middle class cannot change their lifestyle from extravaganza, UBI is futile moral-exercise by the rich for the poor, since afterall wealth too is a finite resource like other resources. It is like, one day a rich feels genuinely for a poor and donates some money, while rest of the days, the same rich keeps looting the same poor with every possible way. I bet the Non-for-Profit activities in the US by the riches and in the other parts are equally Mega Scams as the large Production Houses....

Yes, some Basics have to be equitable distribution but 'Income'?, we are far from that acceptance. Reminds me of a post where I said that domestic helps, cleaners and sweepers must be paid same as doctors, engineers and any professional since they do crucial jobs that the professional are not doing.....There were criticisms by the educated youth on this.....

We certainly need to change our mindset that 'No Work is Small' which should be the foundation of the UBI. For example, Why should a Man going to Moon be earning million times more than a Man going to the Manhole...? Who decides what is more important? If the former is important in the long run and wider outreach, the latter is equally important for one's every day living. I strongly believe that the latter must earn more since they have lesser other perks than the former. This is also an important cultural barrier of 'caste and class' that we face in my society.

We all want to set a minimum line for basic. Is anyone interested to draw a maximum line beyond which it is extra and thus not claim it...answer I KNOW - A BIG NO!...even the best of the saints and sages who attain Nirvana, the answer will be same...so UBI is attainable only when the poor lawfully demands and fights for it. As long as rich are giving it to the poor, there will remain a compromise on the T&C.

All the answers by Ravishankar shows how shallow he is or is he Saffronised too...?

His answers on Yamuna, Sonu, Talaq, are equally hollow as farmers suicide...How come in 512 villages he could only see the lack of spirituality among the villagers and not the lack of governance by the government? Why couldn't he see lack of services by the government and lack of trust on the system by the people?

I understand everyone has their own pair of lens to view the world and that pretty much depends on what work one knows and does.....but please don't make a Spiritual Market out of poverty...it is shameful...

His Sunglasses speak thousand words about him..a red carpet (looks grey here) in front and people likely asking medicine of spirituality....that he supposedly claims to have...

I wonder how he managed to gather so many followers...he sounds so hollow...it also tells that we still have many fools to fool...

Importantly, people like him and in general need to learn more empathy for others...

government busy painting one sided story...

why are the oppositions not asking for independent enquiry of the matter....why aren't they asking for CM's resignation?

at this point, we are double suppressed mainly with poor opposition and ofcourse with powerful ruling..

we need international enquiries and courts for the issues of kashmir and so called 'naxal'...

or we need few dozens of Snowden....

Government needs to have EMPATHY to share resources and respect for the poor...Naxalism is just a Title of the revolutionary local poor...

Government is at ease with the poor of villages and cities...

Why Government cannot plan a Co-management approach for these natural resource rich places...Why is Government adamant to reclaim the land from the local poor and sell it to the rich?

For that matter why government must own every natural resource? Why cant be they owned by the Local Community...?

Why the Government is stringent in providing the rights to the land of the people...Co-management is the answer..

Government must work on curbing the arms and ammunitions... the naxals cant get them without government officials support...

Importantly, why tag them naxals...why not call them local people fighting for their rights which happens in many parts of the world...

What an insensitive observation after practicing spirituality for decades....

The Ignorant Modern Day 7* Guru (Spiritual Businessmen)....

Don't expect anything more than this from this insensitive fool...

While Vivekananda said, "An empty stomach is no good for religion"..

and this billionaire fool is making fun of the poor and seeking spiritual market there too...

Society- people at large

As rightly said by Moliere, "A learned fool is more a fool than an ignorant fool".

a touching comment from ...Sameer Reddy, "my district has witnessed 82 suicides in last 4 years... they were sir, had faith in god.... god give up on them, but many said i heard from their families that the person saying to them, "i'm going to meet god!!!!"

IS THAT SPIRITUAL ENOUGH SIR???

This is way too spiritual than the spirituality of ravi kumar of 21st century....who lives in air-conditioning 24x7, and whose main business is fooling the fools and making millions and if that was not enough, polluting the river Yamuna...

The amount of wealth this guy has is good enough for the villagers (he met) for some years....Why not give it away and become a real sadhu. Let him show his Spiritual Guts..!

Disgusting Ravishankar

it is not about hindu-muslim alone...

hindu-hindu is also a problem....the pseudo hindus will destroy both hinduism and the peace from the society...

I don't agree with the article...as this way or that way the issue is getting too much notice....keeping aside the serious, issues of Roti, Kapda aur Makaan-Dukan? And by the way what happened to Development? Where are the water, women issues?

What is this? ... Why do I have to tell anyone which religion I follow or not follow, I'm Liberal or not Liberal, I'm Left or Right, I'm Straight or not Straight, I like Green Chaddi or Orange Chaddi, want to have Sex or not have Sex.....

Our constitution gives us the Right to hold our belief system as a private affair ...that is our Right..period!

Sadly, Hindutva Extremist groups are doing what they are good at...but aren't the average people done over it...? Ironically, Hinduism seems to be at its riskiest period in History and that too in a Hindu Ruling, how come?

More that the Right, it is also our Duty to dismiss such Issues and seek accountability of our Government Servants for what they are paid for are far more important issues than Hindutva.....

Must Remember...it is about a Mindset of Few but at all Scales ..

A brief discussion on the Sukma CRPF matter with One Educated Knowledgeable High Class-Caste Hindu Nationalist...

....as it follows after both condemning the Sukma killing...

M - i think this is purely a system failure. the place is ruled by bjp for years, so they cannot even blame the opposition on this. infact the congress created the class called 'naxal'. and there is no crpf head at such a sensitive place. having born and brought up at that place, what if i can present to you a thesis that this is the government's plan to sacrifice few crpfs, then wipe off the villagers of the place in the name of naxalites and then go for disinvestment of the natural reserve to adanis and ambanis...I'm worried that the big natural reserve and the tribes of my place will be lost, if this happens.

X - so what is wrong if the place gets developed? those bloody naxalites, they dont know how to eat, how to live and few of them like you poor lower caste-class Marxist people who gets an opportunity to study and live abroad still dont know how to live..If the place is not developed with infrastructure, then they will produce more naxalites.....and by the way, do you know your X professor is a rapist and molester and he goes teaching everywhere...

M - What? How rude you are. How can you speak about a 65+ renowned professor you've never met, and have only known through me in 2 conversations. Why do you drag a delinked prof into the conversation? And you talk about naxalites and me as lower caste-class Marxist person, as those are not humans. Have you been there, known more about them?

X - I just said it...as I feel for him (prof)...just like you feel for bjp...those naxalites are barbaric, anti-national. they must be finished... you people dont know anything, you even dont know how to live...you even dont know how to discuss after lecturing all over the world....I know what I'm saying, I know what is happening there, is happening for the betterment of the country, and I've enough money to survive my life, i dont know about you.....

Bang! Phone disconnect! Discussion Over!

Result -? ...

I know I lost I lost my peace for the day....and later lost my purse in the absent mindedness.....

This is how the upper class-upper caste like to discuss today...!

I remember who I'm facing in the country..

I remember it is about a Mindset of Few but at all Scales - home, work, city, nation..

*btw, the above conversation happened few hours ago...!

i wonder if sri sri n many like him ever had a sense of responsibility...
he is just riding on the peoples stupidity and the country's padmavibhushan...
why are corporates n other big houses like his shun away from responsibilities towards environment when they have enough money sitting in their accounts...yeah, they just make the 7*AOL ashrams n think their environment contribution is over...i bet, everywhere they go for those big lectures, they create another environment disaster and donot pay for it...
Shameless Sri Sri!

YEAH, uniform civil code is long overdue...
BUT, who is this everyone who must speak against TT- muslim or hindu, men or women .....hahaha...
or i wonder whether the victims of the abusive, addicted, arrogant spouses must speak ...?
Here is a RAM RAJYA coming soon....It is made by the men- one who didnot marry and another who disowned his wife, and a bunch of men who are trying to save the society from romeo-juliet, and a large chunk of men who are just watching all these happen (besides watching cricket) and playing safe hypocrites.....
And then the bloody Ram himself-...who took his wife to forest for so many years, distrusted his wife and then sent her to the pyre to die...and if that wasn't enough he is still playing in the minds of the men here as 'what is ideal man'.....
Funny is that they want to bring Ram Rajya and YA is talking of Mahabharat...I hope he is not talking about bringing a Mahabharat time..when hindus are asked to grow more children (100+..??), then one man should have several wives, several men should have one wife, one man (like krishna) should flirt with several women, and then keep fighting for kingdoms (like UP, Goa, Guj)....and if they weren't enough then brothers go on raping brothers wife....and SO ON.....
I bet this YA is going to give NM a run for his power n post...Watch it...!
And when he overthrows NM...we must know that we have reached the ultimate goal of a RAM RAJYAI hope not to live that Rajya...there are already too many Rams creating too many problems in the society.....uff!

alongside must read that the rise in the billionaire list of India is also highest in the world...thanks to the few major industries and ITs... while we should be fighting the class and rank discrimination, we are busy with the caste and religion discrimination...
